The 20th IUHPE World Conference on Health Promotion
Geneva 2010: Joining forces for Health, Equity and Sustainable Development

The Global Scientific Committee of the 20th IUHPE World Conference on Health Promotion is calling for the submission of abstracts suggesting symposia, workshops and oral papers/posters to be presented and discussed at the conference.

For further details and access to online abstract submission forms, please visit www.iuhpeconference.net and follow the links.

Deadline for submission – Monday, 30 November 2009

Welcome to Geneva 2010

The 20th IUHPE World Conference on Health Promotion: Health, Equity and Sustainable Development will take place in Geneva, Switzerland, from 11 to 15 July 2010.

In a globalized world, the dynamics of modernisation and urbanisation pose major challenges to both health promotion and societal development. Therefore, the focus of this conference is on building bridges between health promotion and sustainable development by:

- presenting and discussing state-of-the-art knowledge and cross-cutting issues in health promotion and sustainable development,
- showcasing and challenging best practice in health promotion and in sustainable development, and
- initiating strong alliances and partnerships for promoting sound policies and practices that positively impact on the health of people, societies and the planet.

Geneva 2010 will gather over two thousand professionals, researchers, students, decision- and policy-makers from key disciplines, institutions, companies and networks from all over the world. The conference organisers explicitly invite contributions from those that focus or work for sustainable development.

Topics for submission

We are calling for YOUR contributions relating to research, practice and policy in Health Promotion, Equity in Health, and/or Sustainable Development.

Major areas in which submissions are particularly invited :

Health Promotion and Sustainable Development:

- Concepts, perspectives and approaches
- Theory and methods in research or evaluation
- Policies and regulations/ governance
- Healthy settings, sustainable settings
- Issues for special populations/population groups
- Determinants of health
- Specific topics and issues (e.g. competencies, disease prevention, etc.)

For a full list of topics and keywords, please see Annex 1.

We welcome in particular submissions addressing and exploring trends and challenges in:

- social and cultural change,
- environmental change,
- economic change and/or
- territorial change and urbanisation,
- and the interdependencies both between those areas of change and with Health Promotion, Equity in Health, or Sustainable Development at large

Submission formats

There are three major formats for submission: symposia, workshop, oral papers/posters.

All abstract submitters, including individual contributors are encouraged to interact and collaborate with other presenters and participants wherever possible. Participatory, collaborative and non-traditional session formats will be given priority in the selection process!

SYMPOSIUM: To submit an application for a Symposium, please click here:

www.iuhpeconference.net – Submit a Symposia

The convener must submit an abstract on the entire symposium, stating the general objective of the session, as well as the abstracts and contact details of all symposia presenters.

A symposium will consist of a set of integrated spoken papers relating to a particular theme. The total time allowed for a symposium will be 90 minutes, consisting of three to five presenters, with a moderator to facilitate the discussion (variations will be considered). At least 45 minutes of the symposium should be dedicated to discussion.

We encourage the submission of symposia in which presenters and moderators/discussants represent different areas, such as from policymakers, practitioners, and academics. Diversity of gender and geographical representation is an asset.

WORKSHOP: To submit an application for a Workshop, please click here:

www.iuhpeconference.net -> Submit a Workshop

The convener must submit an outline of the entire workshop, stating the general objective of the session, learning goals of the workshop, as well as the contact details of all co-organisers/session trainers.

A workshop will provide an opportunity for a group of participants either to receive training in a skill set (Skill Training Workshop) or to debate innovative ideas and challenging questions, identify areas for further action and/or develop suggestions as to how these ideas could be implemented in practice.

A workshop will involve a session coordinator, as well as several co-organisers/session trainers. Each session will last 90 minutes.

For more ideas on creative and participatory workshop methods, please see Annex 2.

ORAL PAPER/POSTER: To submit an Abstract for an Oral Paper/Poster, please click here:

www.iuhpeconference.net -> Submit an Oral paper/poster

The presenter must submit an abstract, clearly indicate the thematic scope, keywords, and preference for presentation format, as well as his/her contact details. Most abstracts will be clustered according to content.

All selected abstract submitters applying in this category will be given the opportunity to present a oral paper (10-minute presentation and 5-minute Q&A) or poster (on-paper poster or projected electronic poster). Most poster presenters will have pre-scheduled time slots for presentation and discussions with conference participants.

Guidelines for abstract submission

Submissions must not exceed 3000 characters. Information presented must not be published prior to the IUHPE World Conference on Health Promotion.

Authors may submit more than one abstract. However, authors should not submit the same abstract to more than one session, whether it is a symposium, workshop, poster or oral presentation. If your submission is accepted, you (or a substitute presenter) are committed to holding the presentation at the meeting.

Abstracts must be submitted by the deadline given above. You will be notified by email of the submission status by 15 February 2010, so a current email address MUST be provided.

If you experience any problems with submission or have any questions, please contact:

Suggested workshop formats

Suggested workshop formats:

- World Café – an innovative and simple methodology for hosting conversations about questions that matter. These conversations link and build on each other as people move between groups, cross-pollinate ideas, and discover new insights into the questions or issues.
- Open Space – a question/issue for debate is formulated. Participants then create and manage their own agenda of parallel working sessions around a central theme/idea/issue of importance.

Other creative ideas are welcome!

If you have innovative and creative ideas on how to present your contribution (not only workshops, but also symposia, oral papers or posters), feel free to share them with us!
